Sentiment favoring recognition of Communist China by France is reportedly gaining ground in center and rightist parties,

Among the new advocates of recognition are the president of the parliamentary group of René Pleven's small center party and Emile Roche, a prominent Radical Socialist who is the president of the advisory Economic Council.

Comment

According to the American embassy in Paris, a Social Republican (ex-Gaullist) member of the National Assembly's foreign affairs committee is sponsoring a bill calling for recognition. There are also press reports from Hong Kong and Peiping that former premier Edgar Faure, who is now on a month-long visit to Communist China, has voiced his unqualified support for recognition.

Premier Mollet has continually had to restrain left-wing leaders of his own party--particularly Daniel Mayer, chairman of the assembly foreign affairs committee, from pressing for such a move.
